Born in revolution and turmoil . . . built through the ages advancing and progressing, our way of life is now shaken. We have loved it . . . have cherished it . . . and have carried it through struggle and strife. Through Bunker Hill, Valley Forge, Lake Erie, Fort McHenry, Bull Run, Gettysburg, San Juan Hill, Manila Bay, Chateau-Thierry, and Meuse-Argonne . . .
each time the flame growing stronger and brighter
as did our faith . . ." "Now our time has passed
. . . to you, the youth, we leave opportunity and tradition, a threatened torch, a flame in need of new defenders, braver hearts, more vigorous minds . . . "To you we give a challenge and prayer . . ."
" Be yours to hold it high."

SCHOOL * HAMMOND, INDIANA

"Be yours to hold it high"

Hammond High, once educator stressing business and appreciation of higher living . . . once geared to peace-time pursuits . . .

Students once care-free, complacent, unburdened by doubt and fear . . .

Now a battle bringing long hoped for realizations of national unity and international equality and understanding . . .

Untrained, unprepared, carefree, and indifferent, we ourselves with our hopes, our dreams, could be shattered.

Hammond High School converted to war-time education reached through cooperation . . . Hammond High reorganizing its curricula, giving students and teachers to active participation in the armed forces, launching successful stamp selling campaigns, collecting quantities of scrap metal and paper . . . willingly accepting the responsibility of training better citizens to win the war and to insure fair and lasting peace to follow . . .

Faced with the competitors of doubt, unrest, adventure and excitement, the school has with foresight and planning shown the student the value of his heritage of freedom, equality, and opportunity, and of the need to hold, to protect, and to improve that heritage of American ideals.

Curriculum

Changed to meet war time demands

Irresponsible students, care-free . . . thinking little of a future apparently secure . . . of a struggle seemingly remote. . .

Courses measured only by a grade, or at least by their worth to the individual in preparation for his own success. . .

Then . . . a war . . . and with it changed courses, reorganized curricula, and a new meaning for education. College preparatory mathematics courses, new science courses and aeronautics to better prepare students for service with the armed forces. . .

Home nursing to relieve in some measure the shortage of doctors and nurses, and serious study in modern problems, classes of post-war problems.

Hammond High, a school with an added purpose not only to prepare to win a fight but to plan for a peace as well, that will bring the Four Freedoms to every race and nation in every corner of the world.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Kermit Glyne managed the business end of the 1943 Dunes.

Seniors on the Calumet Herald staff were Dolores Giesecke, Sally Hathaway, Betty Turnquist, Betty Fae Chayken, Maxine Harbison, Ray Stevens, Helen Fites, Florence Barbauld, Jean Mathews, Margaret Mellon, Helen Mathieson, Barbara Moore, Mary Jean Tolles, and Margaret James.

The debate team had two senior members: Dolores Giesecke and Elaine Posner. Jean Bossard and Pat Kennell were also active in speech work.

The swimming team, which captured the state championship, had eight seniors. Bob Prendergast, Charles Nichols, Mike Lafaeff, Walter Gumula, Dick Apathy, Ed Dublak, Earl Dockery, and Kingsley Shannon churned their way to the fourth consecutive victory for Hammond High.

The football squad of 1942-43, captained by Fred Scott, included Doug Adams, Bob Blaemire, Darwin Cooper, Don Creasbaum, Bucky Elstun, Bill Haberman, Tom Hayden, Melvin Hoepner, Louis Kosanovich, Malvern Kubiak, Steve Kucer, Joe Piatek, Mel Pickett, Wally Sasewich, Kenny Walker, Leonard Wunrow, Jim Ehrsam, Bob Olson, Fred Rehder, Don Sweeney, and Bob Wagman.

The basketball team had seniors Fred Scott, Ray Gauthier, Andy Riebe, Steve Bindas, Joe Piatek, Fred Rehder, Steve Kucer, George Steffko, and Mike Bandura.

Fred Scott, Walter Boldt, Bob Tanke, Bryant Clark, Paul Wright, James House, James Ehrsam, Bob Homrich, Fred Rehder, George Krueger, and Bob Norton were on the cross country team.

Leading the cheers for Hammond High were Bob Lynch, Dick Hart, and Maurice Cox, seniors.

Seniors were well represented in the music groups. The Girls' Glee Club had Mary Korba, Florence Pater, Ellen Nichols, Mary Danchi, Arlyne Williams, Margaret DeVries, Aldene Howard, Guelda Niebor, Doris Phair, Mary Jean Tolles, and Patricia De Young.

The Boy's Glee Club included Clifford Gilbert, William Schaller, and Roger Smiley.

Boosts morale of activities program

Clubs . . . clubs for art, music, creative writing, athletics, languages, topped by the association . . . all teaching individuality, self-expression, responsibility, leadership, character, participation in government.

. . . Then it was not very serious, lots of fun, not too important. . .

Now it's still fun, but serious, too, and vastly important. . . We're learning something else—cooperation—with a purpose. We're selling stamps and bonds . . . 12,000 dollars worth in four days. . .

We're collecting old newspapers and scrap iron and money for the Red Cross. We're learning to work for something bigger than ourselves . . . victory and lasting peace.

Association Conducted Metal and Paper Drives

Every pupil in Hammond High is a member of the Hammond High School Association. Although its main bodies are the officers, the cabinet, Senate, House of Representatives, and Court, every student is included and expected to participate in its activities.

Jim Cole was president and superintendent through a very successful year. Andy Granack was vice-president and speaker of the House. Recorder was Sally Hathaway. The president's cabinet consisted of the following: Secretary of Student Activities, Bernie Bolls; Secretary of Public Safety, Betty Carley; Secretary of Student Discipline, Bill Bucha; Secretary of Red Cross, Marge Wiedemann; and Secretary of Student Publicity, Jennie Korellis.

Ten senators, three seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen represented their classes in the upper house. The lower house was made up of one representative of each advisory. The court, consisting of a student from every class, conducted and judged trials.

Many activities were sponsored by the Association with the majority of them being directly or indirectly connected with the war effort.

One of the first presentations of the governing body was that of a service flag which boasts 895 stars, each representing a former student of Hammond High.

An outstanding auditorium session, "United Nations Day," was given showing the typical costume and characteristics of each of the allied nations.

A welcome to new students was extended through a special assembly introducing the officers, their duties, and all of the clubs and organizations offered at Hammond High.

Contributing to the salvage drive was the huge amount of metal and paper given by students during a campaign for that purpose.

Over a local network the functions of the Association were explained and the officers were introduced to the public. Also over the air a quiz show was given featuring the House and the Senate.

A Christmas tree decorated and set up in the main hall was the gift of the Association.

A rousing pep session was sponsored before the sectional basketball tourney in order to cheer our team on to victory.

The student government had as its guests a delegation from the student council of a Mishawaka high school which they entertained in the fall.

Bob Lynch, a member of the Senate, who was president of the Indiana Association of High School Student Councils, conducted the activities of the association and the election for new officers entirely by mail because the inter-school convention which was to be held at Hammond High was cancelled due to the war.

Association week was held during May 10-14. Each day had a different theme, and activities on that day carried out their respective themes. Monday was to train the students in responsibility and was student teacher day. Carefully prepared plans of the elected teachers were checked by committee of students. On Tuesday, cooperation and participation in auditorium sessions was stressed. In the afternoon a student sing was held. A student poll had been held to determine the top choice of songs in Hammond High. Wednesday stressed training in citizenship. Election of senators and house of representative members was held. Thursday was participation in the war effort day. A scrap drive was held, and the cafeteria aided the drive in contributing a great number of tin cans.

All during the week, association officers, senate, house, and cabinet members had a stamp and bond drive. Regular bond salesmen gave up their duties and advisory stamp sales were turned over to the House member. Army ranks were bestowed on each salesmen as his sales grew. Top final ranks were as follows:

Generals—$1,000 or more: Carol Orr, Jim Bacon, Jim Hulett, Colonels—$500: Katy Greene and Dick Humphreys.

Lieutenant Colonel—$250: Bill Lengyl and Dolores Sismour.

Following the All School Revue, and during the dance that same evening, the Association conducted a refreshment booth in the lower hall.

Of extreme interest was the advisory basketball tournament sponsored by the student government. Miss E. McCullough's flashy advisory demonstrated their ability by capturing the championship.

Large American flags were purchased for each advisory through suggestion and direction of the Association.

A very successful, patriotic year may well be credited to the Association officers, cabinet, Senate, House, Court and students.

Monitors Kept Halls in Order

Familiar to everyone is the call of the monitors "Admit, please." There were eighty-five monitors, plus substitutes this year. Their duty is to keep order in the halls in addition to checking lockers, enforcing admit regulations and directing visitors in the building.

Those who are chosen to serve as monitors must not only be dependable and reliable but must also have a strong sense of justice toward fellow students.

The monitors greatest task is signing admits. If admits are found to be illegal, court notices are issued after which the violator is subjected to the rule of the court.

This year a more efficient system was established whereby going to lockers during periods was considered the same as an unsatisfactory excuse for tardiness.

The monitors were under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Burhans and Betty Carley, this year's student captain.

House of Representatives Sponsored Flag Drive

The chief duty of the House of Representatives is to help to make school laws. During this term the group discussed and acted upon several school projects.

One of these projects was to provide an American flag for each room in the school. The representatives collected money in their respective advisories and turned it over to the committee in charge. After all money had been collected the committee purchased identical three by five flags which now can be seen in each advisory in the building.

In the spring a clean-up drive was held. Its purpose was to clean up the grounds around Hammond High and to impress the students to keep them clean.

The House also aided the Senate in several other drives. The paper and scrap drives conducted throughout the year proved successful. Each week several hundred pounds were collected.

To procure names for the service flag the House sponsored a registration book in the main hall.

Several auditorium sessions were under the sponsorship of the House. A pep session was held during the football season to bring more students out to the games. The dedication of the service flag also took place in an auditorium session.

In the spring the House took charge of the election of officers for the following year.

A student teacher day was sponsored by the House. On that day each class chose one of its members to act as teacher while the regular teacher assumed the position of a student.

Mr. Overman was faculty advisor of the House of Representatives and Andy Granack, Association vice-president, was student head.

Social Representatives Had All-Round Program

An authentic undersea setting was constructed for the "Starfish Serenade," the first dance of the year held in October. Ted Nering's orchestra furnished the musical setting for the dance, at which the social representatives sold cold drinks.

The November party was called "Farmer Stack's Party," and so the students donned their pinafores and overalls to enjoy the square dancing, social dancing, and numerous games. It was urged that there be no "dates" at the party where hot dogs, pop, and ice cream were sold.

At the "Christmas Nocturne," a dress dance, the holiday spirited crowd danced around a brightly adorned tree to the music of Johnny Kay and his orchestra. Other decorations were snow-covered boughs throughout the room, groups of joyful carolers, and several Santa Clauses.

Another success was "The Big Blow," where movies of Russ Morgan's orchestra and of Popeye were shown. The social representatives conducted the games throughout the lower halls and sold caramel corn, ice cream, and pop. For dancing the magnavox was used for the first time with a new amplifying system.

After the annual All School Revue a dance was given in the boys' gym with the decorations of a winter playground scene. The music was supplied by Mickey Isley's band.

The annual spring dance was the last activity of the year. The decorations suggested a jungle theme.

The social representatives also had a private party. A chili supper was served after which the representatives played a number of new games in order to acquaint themselves with the games so that they could conduct them at future parties.

Under the direction of Miss L. Strange, faculty sponsor of social activities, and Bernie Bolls, secretary of student activities, the organization, made up of members from each advisory, extended the recreational activities and improved school spirit. The committees for the activities were the decoration committee, headed by Jean Chapman and Sue Tanchala; the entertainment, orchestra, and program committees, headed by Helen Barnes; and the publicity committee, headed by Jim Cobb and Phyllis Durgy.

Two of the outstanding projects of the year were the weekly dancing class, with the social representatives as teachers, and the after school dances.

Hammond Chapter of Hi-Y had 114 Members

"To create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character in school and community . . ." is the purpose of the Hi-Y. This organization is nation-wide and Bob Moore of Hammond High was vice-president of the state chapter. The Hammond High School Hi-Y Club was led by Wade Adams and George Krueger. The platform of the club consisted of clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, clean speech, and clean living.

The Hi-Y sponsored an auditorium session during Brotherhood Week. A round-table discussion was held which featured the Reverend Loren Stein, representing the Protestant faith, Rabbi Feinberg, the Jewish faith, Msgr. Reinig, the Catholic faith, and Dr. Dennis Bea-thea, a prominent colored physician.

Twenty members of the Hammond High Hi-Y attended the state conference at Indianapolis in November.

The programs for the club meetings were very stimulating. The Reverend Loren Stein of the United Brethren Church and Mr. L. L. Caldwell, superintendent of Hammond schools, spoke. Also four movies were shown which were "Tanks in Action," "Building a Bomber," "The Colleges and Universities of the United States," and "Their Part in the War Training Program"

The club of 114 members had over twenty-seven separate religions represented; yet the basis of the entire program was Christian character. It was a definite approach to youth's problems. The club was an outstanding example of religious understanding, appreciation, and tolerance.

Those helping the presidents during the year were George Krueger and Bill Haberman, vice-presidents; Bill Haberman and Wes Wagenblast, secretaries; and Dick McHenry, treasurer. Mr. C. M. Seddلمeyer is the faculty sponsor.

Record Number of Subscriptions Sold in Herald Campaign

The Calumet Herald was edited by Dolores Giesecke. Mr. Bolt was the faculty advisor. For the 1942-43 editions, Sally Hathaway was managing editor, Phyllis Johnstone was news editor, Betty Turnquist edited feature articles with the assistance of Phyllis Lennertz, and Eugene Ince and Joe Mahlie were co-editors of sports. Reporters were Phyllis Durgy, Gus Lanier, Fred Baker, Harry Werkowski, Marion Christenson, and Elaine Rea.

The business staff consisted of Helen Fites, business manager; Phyllis Tucker and Dorothy Verboom, co-ad managers with Ilean Stocker and Pat Todd as their assistants; Florence Barbauld, head of the circulation department with Steve Bronson and Bill Ischie assisting her. Typists were Alice Ledwinka, Ina Mae Pointer, and Dorothy Clarke.

The staff printed 1,500 copies of the Herald which, besides topping all previous records, was approximately ninety per cent of the total number of students.

Roto supplements of four to eight pages were occasionally distributed to paid subscribers with the compliments of the staff.

An innovation was the sale of Heralds at a news stand in the halls. In spite of priorities, labor shortage, and high prices, the regular number of issues was published with no increase in price to the subscriber.

Six special issues were written for the students. A fourteen page Christmas issue, containing original short stories, poems, and vignettes, was published before the holidays. Students enjoyed an April Fool issue which was made up of articles containing the least truth possible. Besides a large Easter issue, there was a special graduation edition consisting entirely of activities and work of seniors.

A cub edition was published each semester by special cub staffs. For the first semester, Marge Mellon was editor-in-chief; Marion Christenson, managing editor; Alice Clover, ad manager; Eugene Ince, sports editor. The editor of feature articles was Phyllis Lennertz, and news editor was Phyllis Johnstone.

Joyce McVey edited the second cub paper, assisted by the following staff: Eleanor Hess, managing editor; Doris Kaplan, news editor; Dorothy Peck, feature editor; and Larry Weiss, sports editor. The business manager was Bill Ischie, and Joe Wawro had charge of circulation.

Hammond High had five members in the Quill and Scroll, an organization which is open to the most outstanding seniors on the staff. Members must also have been in the upper third of their class scholastically, must have held a major position on the staff and must have made a valuable contribution to the paper. Dolores Giesecke, Sally Hathaway, Helen Fites, Florence Barbauld, Betty Fae Chayken, and Betty Turnquist were members. The Quill and Scroll sponsored an auditorium program in the spring. An impressive party was given by them, at which new members of the group were received and honored. Among the guests were students chosen for the staff of 1943-44.

Three members of the Herald staff, Dolores Giesecke, Bud Ince and Charles Hess, wrote the dialogue for the All School Revue.

Eugene Ince, sports editor, was honored by having his column "Inquest" reprinted in "Speculating in Sports," an article in the Hammond Times, by John Whitaker.

The advisor proclaimed 1943 a banner year for effective editorials which were directly responsible for improvements in the school. Some of these promoted numerous campaigns throughout the school, advised pupils about use of material in the building, encouraged school spirit, and stressed the importance of cooperation.

The Herald went all out for the war effort with cartoons, photographs, reprints of United States Treasury mats, news stories, and editorials urging students to support the effort.

A tentative plan of the Calumet Herald was to honor a local journalist by naming the Hammond High chapter of Quill and Scroll for him.

Symbolic Torch of Democracy and Freedom Becomes Theme of 1943 Dunes

"To you from failing hands we throw the torch; be yours to hold it high." . . . an excerpt from the poem "In Flander's Field" by John McCrae became the theme of the 1943 Dunes.

The Dunes' staff was headed by Katy Greene, editor-in-chief. On the editorial staff were Ernie Turner, Marie Herbst, and Orie McCay. In charge of all snap-o-graphs and class write-ups was class editor, Ernie Turner. The club section was edited by Marie Herbst. The senior section was done by Carol Carter, Jean Chapman, Eleanor Hess, Marge Mellon, and Orie McCay. Girls' and boys' sports were written by Carol Carter, Jean Chapman, Marge Mellon, Clara Northrup, and Dick Sampson. Others on the club and class staffs were Marilyn Cole and Nancy Linn.

Kermit Clyne was business manager of the Dunes and his staff included Marilyn Moore, Jim Cieplucha, Pat Kennell, Shirley Wente, Fay Rector, Maurice Cox, and Rani Kieth. Trina Seaney was the bookkeeper.

Jim Cieplucha, publicity manager, and Kermit Clyne put on the subscription drive at the beginning of the year. Their staff of Charlotte Kingston and Rani Kieth, with the help of the art department, made all the torches and colored them according to the number of books sold per room in each advisory. The subscription campaign netted over 1,100 subscriptions.

The entire Dunes staff wishes to acknowledge Miss Ellen McGranahan, editorial adviser of the Dunes since 1935, for her splendid help in making the 1943 Dunes a success; Mr. R. D. Dunham, this year's business adviser since the entrance of C. L. Scherer into the Coast Guard; Bob Abbott, staff photographer who is responsible for the typical school life snapshots which appear throughout the book; Norma Jenkins for her clever and originally cartooned manila folder which serves the 1943 Dunes as an end sheet; Mr. O. W. Bodie of the Bodie studio for his excellent photography and patient help; Miss Olga Schubkegel and the art students who made the torches for the opening pages of the book; Mr. Joe Todd of the Service Engraving Company of Detroit, Michigan; Mr. Ken Cooley of the S. K. Smith Cover Company of Chicago, and Mr. Charles DeLaney of the DeLaney Printing Company of Hammond, who printed the Dunes.

Book Room Staff Sold Supplies

One of the most important places in Hammond High is the bookroom and the work of the bookroom staff is very important and exacting.

Mr. T. Fruehling and Mr. R. Rupp sponsor the staff and Marge Clinton is student manager. In addition, Dorothy Lichtsinn is head bookkeeper; Angelo Tancredi has charge of current cash; George Tsatsos handles reserve cash; Marge Breisch is in charge of all club treasurer reports; and Helen Kirkeiner is head of filing and check writing.

The purpose of the student bookroom staff is to teach students the principles of business. A complete set of accounts is kept for the school by the staff. All money transactions are made through the bookroom. School supplies including textbooks, paper, pencils, pens, ink, and note-books are sold. The bookroom staff also handles all tournament tickets. Selling them in the bookroom and at the Civic Center.

Social activities are enjoyed by the staff also. In the fall Mr. Fruehling and Mr. Rupp gave a party for them. A picnic is usually held in the spring just before school closes.

*L*ibrary Staff Consisted of One Hundred and Eleven Members

Miss Hawver, school librarian, had a very capable staff of one hundred and eleven members to assist her in the library. The staff consisted of forty-two desk helpers, room workers, and extra helpers, besides sixty-nine study hall librarians.

The desk helpers checked in material, answered the telephone, arranged the card files, and gave general information to the students. The room workers supplied pupils with reference material, shelved books and took attendance. Filing magazines, newspapers and pamphlets, typing, and extra shelving were the tasks of the extra workers.

Each study hall had a librarian and a substitute, whose duty it was to get books and magazines from the library for students in the study halls. This was done in order that more people could use the material in the library.

The library received many gifts from various school clubs and organizations. Fourteen groups contributed one hundred and six dollars toward the purchase of new books. The senior class, as is customary, gave several books to the school library.

Red Cross Conducted Membership Campaign

Every student in Hammond High is a member of the Junior Red Cross. There is a representative council made up of one member from each advisory. This council holds a meeting every two weeks and the representatives report to their respective advisories the business to be carried on.

Officers of the council were Marjorie Wiedemann, president; Frances Fary, vice-president; Jacqueline Stone, secretary; and Jean Kohl, treasurer. Miss Zella Von Gremm sponsors the group.

In November a membership campaign was held to swell the funds of the council. Each student who contributed, received a membership card. The council netted one hundred dollars.

In March another drive was held to aid the Senior Red Cross in their campaign. The students contributed nearly two hundred dollars.

Mrs. Burruss from the Senior Red Cross told the members the importance of the Red Cross work during wartime.

Miss Mae Kessing, Hammond High Spanish teacher, spoke on customs and students in Mexico today.

Miss Janet Jones told about blood donors, why they are important, and where the blood plasma goes.

Members of the club spent many hours making supplies for service men. These articles included sewing kits, ditty bags, sweaters, sox, checker boards, jig saw puzzles and other games for pastime in army hospitals and convalescent homes.

Besides doing a great deal of work for those in service, the members of the Junior Red Cross provided entertainment for the people in the County Infirmary in Crown Point. A party was also given for the children of the Bethany Home.

Press Club Honored Benjamin Franklin and Horace Mann

The boys of the Press Club were not as active this year as in previous years because many of the boys had jobs to help in the war effort.

The club made a trip through the Hammond Times Building to see how a larger newspaper is published.

The group also had movies to honor Benjamin Franklin's birthday, and made calendars in commemoration of Horace Mann, who rendered much service to public schools.

The club is organized to print advertising, tickets, and Hammond High publications.

Tom Leeney and Max Fischer represented the Press Club in a quiz program over WJOB and defeated Phyllis Johnstone and Yvonne Petrie of the Speech Arts Club.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Howe, the club elected as their presidents, John Fischer and Tom Leeney; vice-president, Ralph Tanner; Secretaries, Tom Leeney and Ernest Hasselbring; and treasurer, Joe Bogner.

G.A.C. Sponsored Tournaments

The Girls' Athletic Club has as its purpose to provide healthful activities for the girls in an effort to develop sportsmanship, which is a necessity in time of war.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Dietrich and Miss Anderson, the group was headed by Gloria Thompson, president; Lorraine Hoepner, vice-president; Betty Gardner, secretary; and Wilma Anderson, treasurer.

As a healthful means of recreation many hikes were taken. An ice skating party was enjoyed by the members of the organization in the winter.

A Christmas party was held which proved to be very successful.

The G.A.C. also sponsored many tournaments which encouraged friendly competition among the girls.

Modern Aerial Warfare Discussed in Aeronautics Club

Because of their intensive interest in airplanes, and because their purpose was to become better acquainted with this phase of warfare, the members of the Aeronautics Club participated in a lengthy and an enlightening discussion of modern aerial warfare.

To promote and improve model plane building, a scale and gas model contest was held in the early spring for all members of the club.

Jack Scott and J. K. Stinson were presidents; J. K. Stinson and Charles Hess, vice-presidents; Charles Heim and Jack Whitted, secretaries; Dick Hufford and Clarence Wagenblast, treasurers. Mr. Long sponsored the club.

Bohemian Club Stimulated Interest in Creative Writing

The Bohemian Club elected Bud Ince and Orie McCay as presidents; Orie McCay and Betty Weeks, vice-presidents; Connie Dibblee and Carolyn Taylor, secretaries; Betty Fae Chayken and Jim Schroeter, treasurers.

The purpose of the Bohemian Club was to stimulate interest in creative writing. Each member was required to write a poem, essay, or short story upon admittance into the organization. Due to the war, the "Cresset," former publication of the club, could not be published.

The majority of club meetings were spent in reading and criticizing the members' work. Miss Helen Kennedy was the sponsor for the club.

Freshmen with High Scholastic Average Admitted to Ace of Clubs

Freshman girls and boys who met the high scholastic requirements set by the Ace of Clubs were invited to join this organization, it being the only such club open to freshmen. The main purpose of the club is to acquaint new students with each other and their surroundings, and to encourage a top-notch grade level.

Members of the club volunteered to work in the checking room at the All School Revue. At the beginning of each semester, a party was enjoyed by all the members.

The officers for 1942-43 were presidents, Marilyn Molen and Pauline Halleck; vice-presidents, Jeanne Sandstrom and Nancy Lynch; secretaries, Mary K. Anderson and Jim Jordan; treasurers, Betty Pehlgren and Shirley Ohr. Miss Pauline Pritchard was, as in former years, the sponsor of the club.

French Club Observed French Customs and Holidays

The purpose of the French Club is to gain a better understanding of France, its language and its people. In order to carry out this aim, French is spoken at all possible times during the club meetings.

French holidays, Patron Saints, and customs were discussed and reports were given on them.

Clockwise: Longanecker, Minas, Carter, Benoit, Miss Robards, Biede, Blandford, Graham, Middleton, Cillis, Harlan.

A Twelfth Night Party was given where they played French games, ate French food, and told stories in French.

Officers for the semester were Andre Graham, president; Dan Cillis, vice-president; Eleanor Minas, secretary; and Honore Blandford, treasurer. The club is sponsored by Miss Miriam Robards.

J Junior Classical League, New Latin Club, Newly Organized

Since the termination of the S.P.Q.R. two years ago, Latin students have not been organized. This year under the sponsorship of Miss Buck and Miss Pritchard, all Latin students, sophomores or upper-classmen, who had an active interest, organized under the name of the Junior Classical League.

The purpose of this club is to stimulate an interest in Latin and to bring Latin students together.

An initiation party and program were held with fifty-four members attending. During meetings two Latin plays were presented. Most of the members participated, either in the plays or in the chorus which supplied Latin songs for the plays.

Each member received a card of certification for membership. Emblems were presented to the members either in the shape of pins or pendants.

Spanish Club Presented Interesting Auditorium Program

The newest organization of the high school is the Spanish Club, sponsored by Miss Kessing. Officers during the first semester were Caroline Quinn, president; Virginia Morgenhaler, vice-president; Richard Stephens, secretary; and Keith Gilchrist, treasurer.

One of the club's major activities was an auditorium session entitled "Pan-American Day," given on April 14. The program, consisting of an address by Caroline Quinn, a skit which centered around a balcony scene, Spanish music sung by members of the club, and several Mexican selections sung by Senor Don Maya of radio fame, was also presented for the Maywood P.T.A. and the Women's Club of Hammond.

Each meeting was conducted entirely in Spanish and included various activities and the singing of romantic old songs. The main purpose of the club was to bring closer to the students' minds the nearness of South American countries and our relations with them.

German Club Had Christmas Party

A very full program was enjoyed by German Club members who chose Bob Tanke and Marie Herbst, presidents; Margaret Linnemeier and Margaret James, vice-presidents; Marie Herbst and Jean Chapman, secretaries; Betty Darling and Pete Andree, treasurers. Miss Gertrude Schuelke sponsored the club.

The first activity was a lively Hallowe'en costume party at which many German songs were sung and games were played. The highlight of the evening was an adventure through a horror chamber.

Weihnachten in the traditional German manner was the theme of the annual Christmas party at which time members recited poems and sang German carols. Authentic German refreshments were served after a delightful visit by Kris Kringle, who distributed gifts to everyone.

New members were welcomed in February at a dinner party that consisted of typical German food. After a brief initiation, everyone enjoyed playing numerous games.

The German Club joined with other members of Miss Schuelke's classes in giving a farewell party for her before she left for the WAVES.

Arts and Crafts Club Studied Mexican Art

Mexico was one of the subjects studied by the Arts and Crafts Club. Since Mexican Art was the chief interest, the club sketched a model in Mexican dress at one meeting. The best sketches were put on exhibit at the annual art contest.

Pauline Wright gave a talk on Mexico and showed a display of Mexican art and other types of Mexican ware.

In November the members of the club had a Thanksgiving party. As part of the entertainment the members carved figures of turkeys, pilgrims, and other appropriate Thanksgiving articles out of potatoes and other materials.

During the Yuletide season another party was held.

At this party each member brought a Christmas gift for a grab bag.

Ruth Robinson gave a valuable talk on hobbies and collections. After her talk the club held a discussion on their own hobbies.

Because of the present interest in plastics, a movie was seen by the club on this subject.

The club chose as their officers Laurence Bakala and Joyce McVey, presidents; Cliff Jensen and Anne Capps, vice-presidents; Lorene Highsmith and Charlotte King-ston, reporters; and Anne Capps and Bernice Wach, secretary-treasurers. Miss Olga Schubkegel is the sponsor of the club.

N.F.L. was Largest in the State

The Hammond High School chapter of the National Forensic League, an honorary speech organization, was the largest in the state. Under Mr. T. D. Reed's coaching, Hammond High won the sweepstakes award for the fourth time since 1927. The state meet this year took place at the Northside High School at Fort Wayne, Ind. The individual state placers from Hammond were Jim Jones, first in original oratory; Pat Kennell, first in dramatic declamation; Jean Bossard, second in humorous declamation; Paul Edelstein, second in extemporaneous; Jim Schroeter, third in extemporaneous; and Phyllis Johnstone and Bud Ince tied for third in poetry reading.

The N.F.L. rating for speech coaches placed Mr. Reed twelfth in the nation for 1943.

In November members traveled to the Annual Purdue Conference held at Purdue University. A main highlight of the conference was the Student Congress in which every attending school was represented. Each of the schools was represented according to the number of students in the lower house and each school was entitled to one member in the upper house. Pat Kennell represented Hammond High in the senate and Anne Hess, Elaine Reed, Jeanne Wilson, and Marilyn Cole were in the House of Representatives.

Varsity debaters who attended the conference were Aubrey Altshuller, Paul Edelstein, Dolores Giesecke, Bob Hays, Jim Jones and Elaine Reed.

Speech Arts Club Promoted Interest in All Speech

To promote and foster interest in speech activities was the main purpose of the Speech Arts Club. To become a member one must have a sincere interest in one of the speech activities: dramatic, humorous, oratorical declamation, debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, poetry reading, or radio announcing, which is a comparatively new field.

Phyllis Johnstone and Yvonne Petrie of the club competed against two members of the Press Club on a quiz program.

The club held a tourney here on February 20 for fifteen other schools. Dolores Giesecke and Paul Edelstein won honors.

This year's officers were Jim Jones and Anne Hess, presidents; Pat Kennell and Gus Lanier, vice-presidents; Anne Hess and Marilyn Cole, secretaries; Bob Hays and Norman Anderson, treasurers. The faculty sponsor is Mr. T. D. Reed.

Commercial Club Heard Several Local Speakers

The purpose of the Commercial Club is to aid students in planning their future business careers.

Miss Marian Speelman is sponsor of the club.

Officers of the club were Angelo Tancredi, president; Margene Toth, vice-president; Priscilla Church and Viola Otvos, secretaries; and Marge Breisch and Bessie Rogers, treasurers.

An interesting movie dealing with bonds was shown for the new members in February.

Several interesting speakers were heard also.

Daniel D. Lynch, a Hammond lawyer, gave a talk on certain laws pertaining to school age children.

Some tips on window decorating were given by Mr. Fisher, a representative of Penney's.

Mr. Clarence Minas, of the E. C. Minas Department Store, gave an interesting talk on merchandising.

A talk on different phases of law was given by Mr. Rae M. Royce, a prominent Hammond lawyer.

One of our own teachers, Mr. T. Fruehling, told the members of the club about the business of banking.

Automobile Club Encouraged Safe Driving

Fred Scott, Marge Mellon, Paul Dietrich and Donald Scatena led the Automobile Club this year as president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively.

Requirements for membership in this organization are the possession of a drivers' license or permit and an interest in traffic safety. The club has as its purpose to help junior and senior boys and girls become safe and sensible drivers.

Many interesting programs were planned for the members this year and activities were enjoyed by all. Club members heard three speakers. Early in December, Percy T. Smith of the Smith Motor Sales spoke to the members about the place of the automobile in the post-war world and discussed the present day plans for the plastic car.

Officer Joe Norbeck of the school patrol emphasized the importance of safety wherever school children are concerned.

Judge Stodola of the Hammond City Court was another prominent speaker enjoyed by the club.

Various movies were shown to the group expressing the idea of conserving through careful use and knowledge of the mechanism of the automobile. The relation between the deterioration of the automobile and such acts as speeding, quick starts, and sudden stops were pointed out through movies.

A movie entitled "The Pennsylvania Turnpike" showed the building of this modern highway from start to finish and pointed out the sure methods of safety and speed to be employed in such super highways of tomorrow.

A mid-term party was given in the girls' gym for the initiation of new members.

Marge Johnson and Anita Heckelman represented the club on a radio quiz program and were victors over the Aeronautics Club.

The group is sponsored by Miss Thomas and Mr. Hendricks.

Clothing Club Made Sewing Kits For Soldiers

Members of the Clothing Club made Red Cross sewing kits for the Army in order to aid the war effort. These kits consisted of buttons, safety pins, white and black thread and needles.

Hats, mittens and other accessories were made by the club for the All School Revue. They also sewed on safety flags for use in the surrounding schools of the vicinity.

One of the chief projects of the club was to put the stars on the Hammond High service flag. This flag, which was dedicated during an auditorium session, is hanging above the middle stairway.

Officers chosen for the year were Josephine Rovai, president; Josephine Felicia and Betty Danaher, vice-presidents; Angeline Dentrono and Wilma Huehn, secretaries; and Imogene Thomas, treasurer.

For the new members who joined the club, an initiation party was held during the evening.

Pat Kennell and Jean Bossard entertained the group with dramatic and humorous readings. Occasional skits were also enjoyed by the club.

Miss Georgia Thiel sponsored the group, whose purpose is to help create an interest in sewing for high school girls.

Girl Reserves Made Supplies for Service Men

The first semester of this year the Girl Reserves were divided into two groups—the Junior Girl Reserves and the Senior Girl Reserves.

In the junior division Carol Nellis was president; Mary Kinsey, vice-president; Florence Barbauld, secretary; and Edith Miller, treasurer.

The senior members chose Jean Thon, president; Betty Raskosky, vice-president; Willa Mae Vaux, secretary; and Mona Ruwaldt, treasurer.

The second semester the two divisions combined and were under the leadership of Jean Thon, president;

Nancy Markel, vice-president; Edith Miller, secretary; and Dorothy Ward, treasurer.

The purpose of the Girl Reserves is "to find and give the best." They are under the sponsorship of Miss Katherine Bollenbach and Miss Betty Alderton.

The club devoted most of its time to making supplies for the service men. They made service kits, knitted and crocheted afghans and made greeting cards.

Several of the members also did some typing for the Junior Red Cross.

Movie Operators Showed Pictures at Purdue Training Classes

Since visual aids have come to take their place among major classroom methods of teaching, the Movie Operators' Club was organized in order that more operators would be well-trained and available. Mr. Seddlemeyer instructed and sponsored the club.

The operators were taught the mechanisms of silent and sound machines and the proper method of operating them. This training period required six weeks, after which time each new member observed activities while a veteran operator showed a movie. When the movie was to be shown, an operator was called from his study hall. Chief operator was Marvin Shamon and Jack Abrahamson was in charge of equipment.

To provide equipment and operators for the Purdue University War Training classes that met at Hammond High was another important activity of the club.

Biology Club Saw Many Pets

Of particular interest were the reports given at the meetings of the Biology Club by its members because in many instances the speaker had his pet with him to show its characteristics and habits. Sid Lanier's raccoon "Ricky," proved to be very amusing, and a white rabbit romped playfully while Eleanor Bock explained her pet's eating and sleeping customs. Other reports were about tropical fish and insects.

Because the transplanting of plants is so important in the work of the club, whose job it is to take care of all the plants in the library, cafeteria, study halls and on the stair landings, Joe Pugh demonstrated the correct way in which to do this.

In October a party was held at which time new members were informally received into the club after a rousing initiation.

Sid Lanier and Joe Pugh were chosen as presidents; Joe Pugh and Eleanor Bock, vice-presidents; Ernestine Turner and Eleanor Hanford, secretaries; and Carolyn Cheek and Betty Medvid, treasurers. Miss Crystal Reeder is sponsor for the club.

National Honor Society Represents Upper Fifteen Percent of Class of 1943

Sixty-four Hammond High seniors were voted into the National Honor Society this year by faculty members. Outstanding students, chosen as the best leaders for the future, this group represents the highest rated seniors on the basis of service rendered, leadership, character, and high scholarship.

The society's annual auditorium session was held late in the year. At this time, all the members received their membership certificates.

Miss Helen Kennedy and Miss Aileen Allman are the new sponsors of the organization. Since the club is purely honorary its activities are limited.

This year's officers were Bob Lynch, president; Orie McCay, vice-president; Katy Greene, secretary, and Angelo Tancredi, treasurer.

The 1943 senior class was led by Jean Ross, valedictorian, and Pattye Anderson, salutatorian. The next highest in the order of their class rank are Marjorie Wiedemann, Carol Orr, Jennie Korrelis, Jack Taylor, Eleanor Bauer, Dorothy Lichtsinn, Wade Adams, Madeline Chizmar.

Boys' Glee Club Participated in All-School Revue

The Boys' Glee Club chose as their officers Dick Humphrey, president; Reggie Kavanaugh, secretary; Mike Huisich, treasurer; Warren Rice, accompanist.

Miss Esther Waterbury, their director, divided the club into quartettes which sang for various radio and social programs.

The club sang several selections in the winter and spring concerts.

On December seventh the boys appeared in the United Nations Day program. They sang the Victory song along with the Choral Club and the Girls' Glee Club and sang "America, The Beautiful," as a special number.

Dick Humphrey and Charles Hess, the two male leads on the All School Revue, were members of the club. Others who appeared in the production were Fred Firestine, Joe Sherby, Clarence Wagenblast, Warren Yalowitz, George Drummond, Reggie Kavanaugh and Johnny Zacharias.

The club also sang several numbers in the Christmas auditorium program. The songs were two English carols, "The Boars Head" and "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen."

Beginning Girls' Glee Club Sang in the Spring Concert

The beginning Girls' Glee Club was a newly organized group which endeavored to train girls who have not had glee club experience. Miss Waterbury, who directed the group, taught the girls correct breathing and posture. The club gave the girls practice in reading music, in learning scales, and in part singing. Those who showed the greatest ability were put in the advanced girls' group after a semester's work.

The girls appeared in the spring concert in April at which they sang several well chosen selections.

Several members were in the singing chorus of the annual All School Revue. They were Wanda Canaday, Ethel Kollar, Eileen Skomsky and Margaret Toth.

The officers chosen by the group were Betty Pehlgrim, president; Jeannette Rogers, secretary; Shirley Leech, treasurer; and Rosalie Maly, librarian. Norma McCarty was the accompanist for the group.

Choral Club Sang in United Nations Program

The Choral Club is the most advanced group of singers in Hammond High. Under the direction of Miss Esther Waterbury the club had a very active year.

The first big event was the United Nations auditorium session given on December seventh. The club sang "Victory," the theme of which was taken from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, and two other numbers, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and "America My Own." Arlyne Williams, a member of the club, sang a verse from "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." This program was also given on the radio.

Later in December the club sang several Christmas selections in the colorful Christmas auditorium program. This same program was given at a P.T.A. meeting.

In January the Choral Club sang three numbers at and the spring concert which were held in the auditorium.

Many members of the club took part in the All School Revue: Cliff Jensen, Margaret Giesecking and Willa Jean Herder had speaking parts and Helen Barnes, Mary Danchi, Dorothy Lichtsinn, Gaylon Moss, Carol Orr, Doris Phair, Eulalia Price, Jean Bossard, John Krueger, Bill Schaller, Richard Whitman, Norman Anderson, William Lichtsinn, Henry Olszowy, and Lewis Washburn were in the singing chorus.

The members of the club also sang several selections at the annual spring concert in April.

The officers chosen by the club members were Robert Leonard and Cliff Jensen, presidents; Helen Barnes, secretary; Wilbert Buth, treasurer; and Gaylon Moss and Guelda Niebor, librarians.

Mona Ruwaldt is accompanist for the group.

Advanced Girls' Glee Club Entertained for Various Groups

Members of the advanced Girls' Glee Club chose as their officers Mildred House and Connie Webster, presidents; Edith Miller, secretary; and Doris Phair and Jean Tolles, treasurers.

In October the girls presented a radio program with several members of the Boys' Glee Club. The club sang "Ho-la-li," "Snow Legend," "Song of Love," "Now Thank We All Our God," and "America, Thou Blessed Land."

In November the Glee Club provided the home talent for a professional concert given by the Musical Arts Club at a local church.

The girls sang several numbers at the annual Christmas auditorium program. The songs they presented were "Lo, How a Rose," "Jesu Bambino," and "Pat-a-pan."

Several selections were also presented at the winter and spring concerts.

Those who participated in the annual All School Revue were Betty Bognar, Betty Gardner, Anne Gregory, Madge Hegedus, Betty Morris, Roberta Reeves, Jeannette Rogers, Shirley Sykes, Alice Compton, Jean King, Edith Miller and Mary Wilkins, who were in the singing chorus, and Annette Olsen and Dolores Storer, who had the two girls' leads.

The Girls' Triple Trio, which is made up almost entirely of members of the Girls' Glee Club, sang several selections in the school revue. They also sang for various churches, on radio programs, and at the Christmas program given at the Hammond Women's Club. The members of this group are Doris Phair, Edith Miller, Betty Norris, Shirley Sykes, Jean King, Betty Gardner, Dolores Storer, Mary Wilkins and Dorothy Lichtsinn, who is from the Choral Club. Connie Webster was the accompanist for the club.

Bands and Orchestra Played for Concerts

SENIOR BAND

The senior band participated in three concerts this year. Under the direction of Mr. Diercks the group played a wide selection of numbers in both the Spring and Fall concerts. In May the band gave a special concert for their parents.

During the football season the senior band played for all the games played on the Hammond High field.

A special group from the senior band also played at every basketball game at the Civic Center.

In addition the band played in many auditorium sessions throughout the year.

JUNIOR BAND

Because Mr. Nichols, the former junior band leader, left Hammond High to be a Lieutenant J. G. in the Navy, Mr. Gekeler took over the leadership of this group.

The purpose of the junior band is to give those pupils interested in band music a background before entering the more advanced group, the senior band.

Activities of the group this year included playing several numbers in both the Fall and Spring concerts.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra is under the combined leadership of Mr. Diercks and Mr. Gekeler.

Besides participating in the Spring and Fall concerts, the members of the orchestra played for the Fall and Senior Plays. They rendered several numbers before the plays began and also played between acts.

A string concert was presented early in May in which several of the orchestra were soloists.

Salesmen Sold Approximately $50,000 in Bonds and Stamps

Buying stamps and bonds during 1942 and 1943 was the patriotic duty of every Hammond High School student. The cooperation of the students and faculty made it possible to sell approximately $50,000 in stamps and bonds.

Several drives were undertaken during the year and each proved successful. The first drive took place on December seventh. On that day $694.65 in stamps and $3,000 in bonds were sold. The second drive was the drive for "jeeps." During that time the school bought seven and two advisories bought one each, making a total of nine jeeps. The two advisories who bought the jeeps were Miss Dietrich's and Miss E. McCullough's. The next drive was conducted by the Association during Association Week. At that time the regular salesmen turned their duty over to the House representative in each advisory. In this drive $14,325 in bonds and stamps were sold.

The continuous buying of stamps and bonds came under the supervision of advisory salesmen and hall salesmen. The salesmen were responsible to Pat Kennell, student chairman, and the faculty committee consisting of Miss Eunice McCullough, chairman, and Miss Betty Alderton.

The following students were salesmen: Jean Chapman, Marian Dean, Norma Diederich, Edna Mae Farcus, Shirley Fuller, Jeannie Johns, Don Kuchle, Ruth Machta, Marilee MacLeod, Dorothy Matosec, Dorothy McCready, Thelma Miller, Angeline Prucnal, Pat Schauwecker, Lorraine St. Germaine, Dolores Storer, Willamae Vaux, Giles Warner, Dorothy Woodin, Bill Wright, Joan Young, Doris Phair, June Gillam, Eugene Barker, Barbara Moore, Eleanor Minas, Dolores Martin, Carol Carter, Margaret Benoit, Carolyn Campbell, Elnora Bolling, Bill Schaller, Mary Cyrus, Marjorie Merrit, Lorraine Hoepner, Marilee Shobe, Tom Scott, Eleanor Bock, and Marilyn Krause.

ommandos Spur athletic program

A peace-time athletic program filled with great excitement and keen competition in all major and minor sports. . . . Grim dismay when one of a Wildcat eleven loses the pig-skin, great interest in golf, tennis, swimming and track. A student body proud of trophies . . . high school fellows interested in sports. That was before . . . now today we have a job with thoughts of the future. . . .

A new athletic program, curtailed by war-time transportation, and conscious of the war-time exigencies for strong bodies, fearless soldiers, an invulnerable national force. . . .

Compulsory commando training . . . the construction of an obstacle course . . . tough calisthenics, cross-country runs, hurdles . . . walls to scale, and the paddle, a mark of discipline.

All this a new note at Hammond High, but one willingly accepted as the stride forward . . . as the community and nation's demand for strong physical training, to be applied soon on the world's fighting fronts.

Purple Eleven Showed Team Spirit

The Wildcats opened the season with a smashing victory over Horace-Mann 19-0 on September 11. Touchdowns were made by Krueger, Bindas, and Cooper and tribute was also paid to Scott and Piatek for their expert ball handling. A great season was generated for Hammond High.

In the second game the Cats used powerful offensive tactics and defeated Parker High of Chicago 25-0. Although Parker was rather weak, the Purple gridders' hopes were high for Bernie Krueger was proving to be an excellent halfback making runs "worth talking about."

George Rogers Clark came to Hammond High with one of the best teams in the history of the Pioneer school, determined to defeat the Wildcats. But after a hard-fought battle and plenty of brawn displayed from both sides, the game ended with a tie 12-12.

Despite two defeats, Hammond's spirit was high for the Washington game. However, bad luck seemed to be in line with the Wildcats that evening for their three touchdowns made in the first quarter of the game were all called back. The Senators, who later became State Champs, were too good for the Cats once they started rolling, and as a result, the game ended with a final score of 21-6 with Washington on top.

The Emerson game was a great disappointment to the Wildcats for they were defeated 27-0. In spite of the fact that the Cats used brilliant tactics against the Tornadoes, Emerson's ability and experience outweighed that of Hammond's. However, a victory in mind in the next game with Roosevelt spurred the Wildcats on. But they were defeated again in a heart-breaking game by a score of 13-7, when in the last quarter Teddy Zych started for an end sweep, reversed his field, and ran for a touchdown, giving the Rough Riders a lead of six points at the end of the game.

In the next battle the Purple eleven traveled to South Bend to encounter the Central Bear Cats who proved to be tougher than Hammond anticipated. Krueger's spectacular touchdown run was the only redeeming factor for the Cats, as they were crushed by the Bears 25-7.

To defeat Whiting was one tradition which the Wildcats felt they must live up to. Brilliant playing and expert ball handling was shown in this game when again Krueger sparked the victory over the Oilers 13-6.

On November 6 the Cats traveled to Toledo, Ohio, to embattle against Libbey High School for the first time in HHS history. Libbey had a strong defensive line, but in spite of this, Krueger managed to break through for two long runs giving Hammond its 13 points. This did not compare with the scoring ability of Libbey, however, which was brought to a grand total of 35 points.

For the final game of the season the Purple eleven played host to the Tech Tigers and won with a decisive score of 30-0.

Wildcats End Season With 10-8 Record

Kessler's hardwood boys won 10 out of the 18 games this year, and were defeated 42-36 by Roosevelt in the sectional tourney.

The season started by the Wildcats being downed by the Emerson Tornadoes 29-28. In the next three games they defeated Washington, Valparaiso, and Tech by respective scores of 31-20, 41-37, and 31-22. Meeting Fort Wayne (Central), the Wildcats lost in an overtime 33-31. Then came the Clark game and a Wildcat victory of 57-46. The fireworks started after the Clark contest. Frobel, South Bend (Central), and Roosevelt all won over the hapless Wildcats. The respective scores were 41-35, 54-30, and 43-39. The Cats bounced right back and victory was theirs in the next two games with Washington 48-34, and Tolleston 40-31. The next game was a heartbreaker for the Purple, being defeated by Tech in a "nip and tuck" game in the fourth quarter when the Tigers surged ahead to win with a final score of 29-24. The Purple five did not let this defeat get them down and won their next three games; 49-32 over Valpo, 55-43 over Clark, and 55-34 over Whiting. Traveling to Muncie, Hammond was on the losing end of the score of 34-29. Bad luck followed them the next week to Gary where they played Lew Wallace and lost 30-46. The Wildcats finished the season with a grand flourish, beating Horace Mann 57-22.

February 15th at 8 P. M. Hammond met Roosevelt on the Rough Riders' floor where the Wildcats held their own until the last three minutes of the fourth quarter when four Cats went out on fouls. This exciting 32 minutes of play ended with the Roosevelt five topping the Wildcats 42-36.

Bindas: Hard driving senior guard whose flashy ball handling made him a favorite of the fans.

Riebe: Senior guard who was a main factor in the lineup because of his calmness and control of the team under fire.

Stefko: Classy senior guard who played hard in true Wildcat spirit until the final gun.

Scott: A senior forward who combined his rebound ability and left-handed shots to make one swell ball player.

Piatek: Senior forward who used his head and height to make baskets when they were most needed.

Kucer: Powerful senior center whose supreme rebound ability, ball handling, and pivot shots were an outstanding point in every game.

Bandura: A senior guard who was a fine floor player and a good ball handler.

Sobek: A junior forward who played his part when he was called upon. Next year Andy will carry on the Sobek tradition.

Stuart: Rugged junior guard who will be an outstanding person on next year's team.

Gauthier: Hard playing senior guard who was very well liked by fans because of his ball handling ability.

Mermen Win State and Conference

This year, despite the drawback of change of coaches in mid-season and lack of practice, the purple tankmen had a top season. They won their four dual meets, the conference, and their fourth consecutive State championship. This was the first time that the team has won both the conference and the State meets in the same season.

Robert Prendergast, conference champion, who won the 220-yard free style, was the only one of the team to be a first place winner in the meet. Walter Gumula, State champion, who was the only first place winner in this meet, won the 150-yard free style. Although there was only one first place winner in the conference and the State, the team's victory in these meets was due to the balanced power of the team. Only one champion in each, but the second and third place winners, of which there was a quantity, were the reason for their victory.

Harriers Take City and Sectional

The outdoor season opened on April 7 with a city meet. Hammond took top honors, receiving first in twelve out of thirteen events. Hammond Tech was the only outsider to break the Wildcat monopoly of the first place ribbons. Dawson of Hammond High was the only athlete to take two first places. He won 120 high hurdles and the high jump.

In the East Chicago relays, Hammond High broke one of three records while grabbing 6 of 12 first places, including team mile, team shot put, two-mile relay, and the 880 relay. Hammond High's two-mile team broke their respective record selling a new low of an 8:44 race.

In the Western Division, Hammond High scored 65 points against Emerson's 53 to win. The Wildcats snatched five firsts in mile relay, 880 relay, 100-yard dash, 220-yard run and 440-yard run.

On May 8 Hammond High placed second in the Northern Indiana Conference track meet. The harriers came in second to North Side Fort Wayne who have proved a jinx all season. North Side hoisted their total to 40 against 43 points for Hammond. The Wildcats won one first place in the individual events with Fred Rehder putting forth a 52-second effort in the 440, got a first in the mile relay, and finished second in the 880 relay.

The harriers splashed to the sectional track victory through a steady rain. They ran up a total of 55½ points against 20½ for Roosevelt of East Chicago, the second place winners. Winning this meet keeps alive the harries' hopes of ousting North Side Fort Wayne for the state track and field championship.

On the team were as follows: Barker, Boldt, Clark, Sampson, and Homrich, milers; Boldt, Homrich, and Gapinski, 880 men; Rehder, Ford, Van Buskirk, and Brauer, 440 men; Grambo, House, Humphrey, 100 men; Piatt, G. Krueger, and Templetton, shot putters; Templetton, Humphrey, and B. Krueger, broad jumpers; Dawson, high jumper; Elm, Scott, and Roberts, pole vaulters; J. Scott, Buck, low hurdlers; Brauer, Van Buskirk, Rehder, Boldt, and Homrich, mile relay; Humphrey, B. Krueger, Templeton, Grambo, House, and Patterson, 880 relay.

Cross Country Wins 8 Dual Meets

The 1942-1943 cross country team was the best in years. It won eight out of eight dual meets beating Lowell 19-36, Emerson 18-57, Roosevelt 15-40, Edison of Gary 15-40, Washington 15-40, Clark 17-38, and Lew Wallace 25-32. The Clark meet was an invitational meet to which most of the teams in northern Indiana were invited. Hammond came in first with Horace Mann placing second and Hobart third.

The team was coached by "Whitey" Wonsowitz and consisted of Byran Clark, senior; Dick Sampson, sophomore; Jay Harbin, senior; Walter Boldt, senior; Ray Ban Buskirk, junior; David Ford, junior; Eugene Barker, junior; Jim Fedoroff, sophomore; and Bob Homrich, senior. Barker and Clark were high men with 34 points and sophomore Sampson was third with 32 points.

The "B" team also had an excellent season. They won both of their dual meets, beating Roosevelt 19-36 and Clark 20-35. They also won the annual "B" cross country meet, and the individual city champion was Dick Sampson.

Sole Event Won This Year by Seniors Was Swimming

Splashing their way to a hard earned victory this year was the senior swimming team. History was made by this senior team, it being the only event in which the senior class made any showing this year. This victory also marks the first swimming championship this senior class, the class of '43, has won during its four years of participation.

Being small but nevertheless speedy, the champion- ship senior team included Naugle, Highsmith, Wente, Keith, and Northrup.

Harmon, Dorsey, Curtner, and Erickson made up the junior team.

Swimming sophs were E. Thompson, C. Thompson, Van Camp, Kunde, and Lyons.

The greenies were represented by P. Thompson, Gabovich, Seitsinger, M. Beebe, Oltz, Witter, M. Gardner.

Sophs Win Interclass Basketball Championship

After the slow process of narrowing down the girl cage enthusiasts into class teams, the interclass basketball meets were held during mid-April through the double elimination process. Only three class teams were chosen due to the fact that the seniors sent no representatives, and thus could enter no team.

The sophomores defeated the fighting frosh with a score of 12-9, while the freshmen came out vic- torious over the juniors with a score of 10-9 in these "win or kill" battles.

The championship sophomore lineup included

Haag, Jensen, Heath, Matosec, Korchidas, Deitrich, Duryg, A. House, Kunde, and Bock.

The small junior team had only six members: Hoeppner, Griener, McIver, Erlenbaugh, Garber and Thon.

The large fighting freshman team included Bagby, Gibson, Massack, Patrick, Church, Wolf, Hill, Sutton, Storm, Lowrey, Tohey, Staniszewski, and Wiker.

The all-star team consisted of Hoeppner, McIver, Haag, Jensen, Matosec, House, Bagby, Gibson, Hill, and Storm.

Juniors Take Honors in Volley Ball

Opening the girls' sports season with a bang was the volleyball season. In this event only three classes participated, those being freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.

The volleyball championship was won by the juniors, after many tough rounds of double elimination. In the last game the juniors beat the frosh by a big margin, the score being 24-19.

On the junior championship team were: M. House, Peglow, Adams, Hoeppner, Griener, Anderson, Thon, and Erlenbaugh.

Sophomores active in this sport were: C. Thompson, Jensen, Korchidas, A. House, Eckert, Haag, Van Camp, Warner, Gavit, Kunde, Duryg, P. Rickman, and Edwards.

Freshmen who participated were Massack, Sutton, Halleck, Adams, Rainey, Lowery, Smith, Ganz, and Paris.

The all-star varsity team consisted of M. House, Sutton, C. Thompson, Jensen, Gavit, Kunde, Peglow, Hoeppner, and Greiner.

Many Girl Athletes Participate in Bowling

Bowling is a seemingly new sport to Hammond High although not new to the athletically inclined students. The following Hammond Highers participated in bowling, meeting at the Calumet Bowling Alley every Wednesday: M. Davis, J. Eckert, O. Brown, D. McEachern, M. Bieriger, P. Messenger, M. Hegedus, M. Bilner, R. Barton, J. Gardner, G. Pancheri, S. Quint, H. Quint, J. Gillam, M. Pelc, D. Stiglitz, and H. Turner.

Betty Jane Burch was chosen as the group's cap- tain. The group has been active for only two years. It was organized by Kay Kimmel in 1941.

During the opening season, the team, dubbed "Gutter Girls," composed of Sue Quint, Helen Quint, and Bernadine Prange, were victors.

High scorers next season will be awarded medals by the owner of the Calumet Bowling Alley.

Bustin' With Pride!

We're mighty proud of an association with yours and other leading schools which, as makers of plates for quality printing, goes back many years.

Yes, we're proud to salute you for your splendid response and whole-hearted cooperation with national, state and local agencies in this war emergency.

What's more, we're proud to say that we, too, have gone to war. For the same skill, experience and facilities—responsible for a distinguished peacetime record in the field of photo-engraving—are today also serving the government in important war production.
